News Papers.

The man that don't take newspapers was in town the other day. He brought his tamily in an ox wagon. He still believed that Millard Fillmore was President, and wanted to know if the "Kamsehatkians" had taken Cuba, and if so, where they had taken it. He had sold his pork for six cents, when he might have got ten. One of his boys went to a blacksmith shop to be measured for a pair of shees, and another mistook the market house for a church. He hung his hat on a meat hook, and patiently waited one hour for "meeting" to begin. One of the girls took a lot of "seed onions" to the postoffice to trade off for a letter. She had a baby which she carried in a "sugar trough" stopping occasionally to reek it on News Papers, frough" stopping occasionally to rock it on the sidewalk; when it cried she filled its the sidewalk; when it cried she filled its mouth with a cotton handkerchief, and sang. "Barbara Allen." The oldest boy had sold two coon skins and was on a bust. When last seen he had called for "sody and water," and stood soaking gingerbread in it and making wry faces. The shop keeper mistaking his meaning, had given him a mixture of sal soda and water, and it tasted strongly of soap. But he'd "hearn tell of sody water, and was bound to give it a fair trial, puke or no puke." The old man had a tea kettle he wanted "fixed up," and he carried it to the milliner shop. The clerk thought the man was crazy, but noticing the hole in the kettle, politely told him that Dreyton & Woracek could mend it for him. He then took an old plough to the jeweler's to have it "pinted and sharpenjeweler's to have it "pinted and sharpen-ed." We told the old man he ought to read the papers, but he would not listen to 'it. He was opposed to "internal improvements," and he thought "larnin" was a wicked invention.—[Exchange.

What Andrew Johnson Thought in 1860.

An interesting letter has turned up written by President Johnson in the spring of 1860 to Hon, G. W. Jones, of Tennessee. The following passage, in which the writer pays his respects to some of the Democratic aspirants for the Presidency, is particularly Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, is burning up with ambition, and is nearer consumed by an internal heat that any man I ever saw, except John Slidell, of Louisiana. What Jeff will do if he is not nominated God only knows. Old Buck seems for the candidates by turns—sometimes for one and then for another, and so on. It think he is always for the weakest man, until he comes to run up, and then is for the next weakest, hoping that they will be strong anough to defen that they will be strong enough to defeat a nomination, and then it will devolve on the Convention to nominate him, yet he disbelieves it all the time.

A War-Worn Veteran.

The sergeant of the Libby Prison in Richmond was in the British service twelve years. He served in the Ninty-second Highlanders for nine years, was voluntarily transferred to the Ninty-third to take part in the Crimean war, and was in five engagements during that struggle. In the charge at Alma and at Guergor Range, he received the distribution of a ball and medal. In the famous charge of Balaklava he lost his nose, required a bullet in his askle, was honored with a Victoria cross, and retired on a pension.

Re came over to this country, enlisted, and was assigned to the Eleventh Unite i States Regulars. He was presented by Lord Lyons with with an artificial nose made of a composition of India rubber. In the battle of Poeble's Farm, near Petersburg, he lost his second nose from a bullet, and received four other bullets through his clothes. He is now wearing a third nose, which he made himself of a peter of the wood of an ammu-

THE Philadelphia Gasette speaks a follows of a new application of photography We were yesterday shown a handsome gold watch, the property of Mr. E. S. Cooper, upon the porcelain dial of which was photographed indellibly the miniature of his photographed indellibly the miniature of his father, the founder of the Cooper Shop Refreshment Saloon. The art of photographing upon porcelain is now perfected. We see it done upon lamp shades and upon cups and vases. The extending of it to watch dials is something new. The watch in question, so far the first of the kind, is not likely to remain so, and watch dials henceforth will contain family portraits, and to a certain extent do duty as portable alto a certain extent do duty as portable albums. The expense of securing them is not much. Take your watch to a jeweler, get the dial removed, and the photograph-er will do the rest. The pictures thus taken are perfect, and will endure, whether covered or not, until they are broken.

Let Him Down Easy.

The manner in which our military heroes are let down to their original level on their return home, is sometimes more amusing to lookers on than flattering to the subject. case in point : Gen. Sam. H. went out in a regiment from the Badger State a Captain. Before he left the rendezvous he was promoted to Colonel; and for gallant con-duct in the teld was trevetted Brigadier-General. On his retirement to civil life he told a friend, "They let him down easy."

At Washington it was General H.; at Madison. Colonel H.; at the town where he organized his company it was. "How are you, Captain?" and when he got to S., where he resides, every boy with a freekled nose was shouting, "Hallo, Sam!"—[Wabashaw Herald.

How HE HIRT HIS NOSE .- A member of a well-known bookselling firm in Chicago, having injured his nose, and being continually anasyed by questions as to how he did it, had a eard printed, and, when a person made the inquiry, would answer the queriest by presenting his explanation. as

This popular rural paper, published on the 1st and 15th of each monta at Urica, N. Y., at 81 30 a year, is now greatly enlarged and improved, and equal in size and value of contents to any other similar publication in this country. Indeed, no other similar publication in this country. Indeed, no other paper of the kind can be compared with it, in the real value and interest attached to its contents; and it is decidedly shead of anything of the kind every published.

The Rural American is not a local paper, but just as valuable in New Eugland, the Western, and other States as in the State of New York. Its circulation is larger than that of any other paper, out of the city of New York. Volumne x will commence January 1st, 1866.

The form is a very large Sixters Aage Octavo, containing double the reading matter, that can be found in any other similar publication on every subject of interest to farmers, fruit growers, igrape growers in particular, stock raisers, gardeners, bee-keepers, poultry breaders. Se.
